My dear [redacted]:

Ever since its organization, the Washington Document Center has proven one of our most valuable sources of intelligence materials on the Far East. Its facilities constitute so vital a part of our research program that certain types of projects are not even undertaken without a check of materials available through WDC.

The operating efficiency and the unusually prompt service rendered to the Department of State have contributed materially to the success of the Department's research program.

We wish it to be made a matter of record that the Washington Document Center has cooperated generously with the research program of the Department of State and that the Department would consider it unfortunate and a serious inconvenience if the existing cordial relations with the Washington Document Center should be disrupted or discontinued.

Sincerely yours,

For the Acting Secretary of State:

George R. Fearing, Jr.
Director Office of Intelligence
Collection and Dissemination
